To Whom It May Concern,

Aaron Schneider, one of my former clients, an Oscar winner for his short film, Two Soldiers, was looking to direct his first feature film, to be produced by Dean Zanuck as an Independent Film and was looking for advice on film finance.

Having met Joy at The American Film Market in Santa Monica, I asked if she would be prepared to meet with my client and his producer. She proved to have a wealth of knowledge and was able to advise them on both finance, sales and continued to assist until the film entered successful production.

We have all remained in touch over the years and wish Joy every success with her latest project.

Best Regards,
