Dear Joy:

As an actor, producer and director of many years experience, I was offered the opportunity to direct, Joy and Dave's Feature film project, Blind Dating, where we successfully cast Chris Pine, whose star continues to rise

Joy and Dave were totally committed to this project and spent the best part of a year in LA working with me to develop, shoot and post produce the feature. Their enthusiasm and knowledge of production were a huge benefit to the film's vision and we worked well as a team, respecting each other's role and skills to deliver an excellent finished product and a friendship that has lasted many years

Kindest Regards,

James Keach
