To whom it may concern

Many years ago at the Cannes Film Festival, I met Joy Mellins who was there promoting her latest project. I was impressed by her dedication and enthusiasm for the industry and later asked her to set up and run a new production company, Theta Films.

She ran this company for many years, developing and creating films for theatrical release. She also created a revenue stream for the company by bringing in post- production facilities.

Joy is extremely hard working and her instincts for potential projects have proved her worth. Her knowledge of scripts and film finance have come from her dedication to detail and awareness of the marketplace.

Yours faithfully
